

We are helping to heal the ozone hole

Researchers in our department contributed to the development of the Montreal Protocol, which banned the substances responsible for destroying the ozone layer. Our models of the decline and recovery of the ozone layer before and after the protocol's introduction have helped chart its effectiveness. A healthier ozone layer means that by 2030 there will be some two million fewer cases of skin cancer each year.